

GRADUATE AUDIOLOGIST POOL 2024

LIONS HEARING CLINIC

As part of Ear Science Institute Australia, Western Australia's own independent medical research institute, Lions Hearing Clinic is dedicated to delivering clinical excellence to adults with ear and hearing disorders. Join an independent and commission-free team providing quality care and utilise a range of the world's leading manufacturer's devices.

At Lions Hearing Clinic we are committed to achieving quality outcomes for our clients, and this extends to the way we look after our employees too.

We are looking for a graduate Audiologist with:

- An aim to work in Adult Aural Rehabilitation;
- Passion to deliver evidence based client care;
- The ability to create the best client experience without the pressure of sales targets
- Drive and ambition to become a leader in the profession, and
- An optimistic outlook and who is self-motivated.

Joining the Lions Hearing Clinic Team ensures you will:

- Receive attractive remuneration with greater take home pay through salary sacrifice;
- Have a generous training fund to support professional self-development;
- Have a dedicated supervisor to guide you through the first year of learning;
- Have a well-structured and immersive internship program, allowing you to develop at your speed;
- Access our corporate discount program and employee assistance program;
- Enjoy leave on your birthday!
- Work with engaged, passionate and supportive colleagues;
- Work alongside a multidisciplinary team who values and is immersed in a culture of clinical research;
- Have genuine career development opportunities;
- Be part of an organisation which embraces change and innovation;

Applications:

- If you are looking for a rewarding career where you get to deliver high quality care, please submit your resume along with a cover page highlighting why you want to work for Lions Hearing Clinic.
